A/S	#	Candidate:	Please use this space to provide any additional thoughts or remarks about these issues.
AD	2	John Hambrick (I)	My record speaks for itself.
AD	2	Owen Carver	I'm a strong proponent of gender equality and believe there is still a lot of work to do in our state to ensure women and men are treated equally and that we have equal representation in local and state positions of leadership in business and government.
AD	2	Garrett LeDuff	I'm not convinced that $15 an hour is enough thats why I'm said no I think it should be sooner.
AD	4	Bert Lucas Jr.	Having two daughters these issues hit very close to home. I will do everything I can to protect and champion these issues. As a father and Union craftsman I feel very strongly about wage equality, family care, and women's health issues. I will be a legislator you can come to for support on these and other matters.
AD	4	John Piro	We have to do better for the women in our State. Being a terrible place for a working mother to live cannot be another metric where Nevada ranks near the bottom. Changes need to be made, and that is why I am running--the same old way of doing things isn't working for too many of our families.
AD	5	Brittney Miller	I'd like to further explain my response to #7. I am absolutely in support of increased wages for our workers. Inflation has dramatically increased over the past few decades, while our salaries have stagnated. There are many considerations, and research, I need to do before I can commit further to the idea of a minimum wage increase to $15. I will, without pause, stand up for the immediate wage increase for our daycare and childcare workers. It is quite disturbing that we pay the individuals who care for our infants and young children so poorly. I believe our certified nursing aides, foster care, and social workers should also be among the first to receive an increase. As a teacher, I believe salaries in many industries should be increased and adjusted. The way we view individuals serving our most vulnerable need to be reassessed. My hope and anticipation would be that increasing the minimum wage would result in salary increases across the board.
AD	6	Valencia Burch	I am committed to this issues not because they are important to the progress of women but because they are the right approach in a progressive society where gender equality should be proactive effort. Until the day comes that it is, we will have to unite and protect these and other liberties and fight the injustices through legislation. I will do that.
AD	6	Macon Jackson	Being a father that raised 5 amazing daughters as a single parent. I wholeheartedly understand the issues that we face when it comes to equal pay for equal work and we need to protect workers rights as a union member for over 30 years I'm all about protecting workers rights.

AD	6	Arrick "Kerm" Foster	I am on record being at the 2015 legislative session April 6th speaking on behalf of Senate Bill (sb259) strengthening paid sick leave for working families. What makes me unique from my opponents is that I did not wait for an empty seat to run for the assembly and I did not wait until I became an assemblyman to go to Carson City and fight for rights of our children and the parents that support them. All issues deserve object evaluation from all angles to hone in on what the sensible outcome could be. Thank you for your time. Arrick " Kerm" Foster
AD	12	Ron McGinnis	I am a "WE THE PEOPLE" Candidate. I am not a spoon fed Harvard Grad. I work for a living, and have all my life. I got my Degree form The School of Hard Knox. Together, "WE THE PEOPLE" can take our Government back and strive for greatness.
AD	13	Steve Sanson	I will seek the advice of experts and my constituency in AD13 on most of my bills before I vote.
AD	18	Erica Mosca	As a first-generation college graduate who qualified for free-and-reduced lunch growing up and went to seven different schools, I know first-hand the importance of equitable policies that support families, women and the historically oppressed. I graduated Summa Cum Laude from Boston University and have a Master's Degree in Education Policy & Management from Harvard's Graduate School of Education. However, I had to work throughout school to finance my education and as a minority female had to work twice as hard as others to be on a level playing field. I am running for office to represent real people in District 18 and empower our entire community to have a fair shot. I started and run a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, Leaders in Training, that empowers East Las Vegas students to become first-generation college graduates and future Nevada leaders. From my own experience and those of our students and their families, I know every single person wants the best for themselves, their families and their communities. I'm running to have a seat at the decision-making table because we need to stand up together and collectively fight for an equitable and better Nevada for all women, children and families.
AD	18	Matt Sadler	question 9 (domestic worker rights) is too ambiguous to answer with 100% certainty...lots of subjectivity with regard to what is deemed adequate wages, working conditions, etc. With regard to question 11 (title IX), I'll work hard to alter that law since I deem it ineffective. Also, I am in support of enforcing all laws otherwise I could be construed as an anarchist. I prefer to change laws that are morally wrong or ineffective.
AD	21	Vinny Spotleson	These are all critically important issues. I have made them an important part of my campaign and I have included them on my website and walk cards.
AD	21	Ozzie Fumo	The fact that we do not have equal pay for equal work in America is a legislative shame that we must work to correct. We are also the only country in the industrialized world that does not offer paid family leave. Again, this is something we must work to correct on a national level. Here in Nevada, I grew up surrounded by strong women in my mother and sister and today I have four daughters. For them, and for all women in Nevada, I will be a reliable vote of support for a living wage and someone who fights to protect for domestic workers and Title IX. Discrimination has no place in our society and it certainly has no place in state law.

AD	34	Manny Garcia	All people are worthy of respect and equality, regardless of gender, race, religion, background, or sexual orientation.
AD	34	Zach Conine	Regarding #7 (minimum wage), I believe the solution is more nuanced than the choices allow. I support raising the minimum wage in order to provide for a living wage. The amount of the minimum wage should be tied to cost of living in specific areas in my opinion.
AD	34	Shannon Bilbray-Axelrod	These issues are so important to me and frankly one of the reasons I am seeking this office.
AD	37	Glenn Trowbridge (I)	I would need to see the language of any proposed bill and the costs of implementation prior to making any commitment on specific issues. Given the chance, I am inclined to support women.
AD	41	PAUL AIZLEY	Normally, I do not agree to legislation that I have not seen but these items are no-brainers. Q 10 is the least clear intent. Why the limit?
SD	5	Joyce Woodhouse (I)	During the 2015 session, Senator Spearman and I attempted to address the equal pay issue, but were strenuously opposed on the floor of the State Senate.
SD	15	Devon Reese	I have a grandmother, mother, aunts, three sisters, nieces, and two daughters - I support women because they have supported me!
